

Our Details

Introduction:

In Bangladesh every year, some natural disasters hit the coastal region. Due to the constant disaster of the disaster, the lives of millions of people are endangered to the human rights of wealth, rights, dignity and survival. In the process of increasing the natural disaster, changing the elements of the weather, and increasing the level of sea level, the environment and livelihood of the people of the world, including the environmental disasters of the world, is among the threats of danger, among them the coastal region of Bangladesh is one of the most.

Coastal Social Welfare Foundation: As per Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics report 2001, 19 coastal districts out of 64 districts of Bangladesh. In the 147 upazilas of 19 districts, more than one-fourth of the total population lives in the country. Meanwhile, coastal areas are frequent and frequent hurricanes in Bangladesh due to the frequent earthquake, sudden flood, cyclone and sea tidal surge, tidal tide, salinity in soil and water, Sundarbans sugary trees and so on. Keeping in mind the Cervical Co-operation of the coastal people, some youths with voluntary mentality were formed on 01/11/2013, the private volunteer organization of the Coastal Social Welfare Foundation.

Vision: The development of the lives of the people of Bangladesh through social welfare, protection, empowerment and development.

Mission: Development of life and social well-being of the people of Bangladesh by providing integrated and expanding social services on the basis of partnership with relevant stakeholders using suitable and funded resources.

Legal Basis:

The coastal social welfare foundation - a non-profit voluntary organization registered by the Prime Minister's Office of NGO Affairs, Social Welfare Department, Joint Stock Company, Department of Youth Development, is present.

Organizational structure: According to the constitution, the 7-member Executive Council, Advisory Council, full-time and part-time staff, local-international volunteers / volunteers, the Coastal Social Welfare Foundation conducts various activities. The General Council, Executive Council and Advisory Council of the organization consist of businessmen, development workers, journalists, students, young people, researchers, etc. As a Member Secretary of the Executive Council, the management and management of the organization's main executive organization.

Last statement: In order to achieve success in the sustainable use of the coastal region, by combining the integrated strategies of social, cultural, environmental and institutional resources at the lowest Cost, the implementation of environmental law and the existing policy examinations will be

Followed and in line with the needs and objectives of the coastal Region, coastal social welfare Foundation